

Faculty Professional Development Fund

From the Offices of Faculty Development and Provost

FAQ

The Faculty Professional Development fund is a new opportunity at ArtCenter for Faculty members to engage with peers through national or international non-profit professional settings – specifically presenting at conferences or professional organization meetings by invitation, in a not-for-profit situation (differentiated from ArtCenter Faculty Council's annual Teaching Advancement Award*). The Office of Faculty Development (OFD), underwritten by the Office of the Provost, will allocate funding. Currently, $15,000 has been identified annually for this opportunity. Please see protocols and procedures below, established to make sure the application process is available to all, transparent, and equitable. If your presentation is eligible, please complete the FPD Application Form, available on the Faculty Development page on inside.artcenter.

Guidelines and FAQ

- Faculty members should apply to present at a conference or organize/speak on a panel (or have been invited to present) and then initiate the funding request with OFD (acceptance/invitation letter to be presented at this time).
- Differentiated from the TAA* offered by the Faculty Council, this budget would provide funds specifically for faculty members to present by invitation/acceptance at professional conferences, etc.
- Completed FPD Application and Education Travel Request forms must be received in advance of travel. Faculty Development workshops and coaching will be offered in conjunction to help with conference application process.
- Funds may be used for conference registration fees, membership fees if applicable, conference hotel, and travel to/from (including plane tickets and ground travel to/from conference, excluding rental cars or per diem), not to exceed $1,500 (national) or $2,500 (international). Blanket funding will not be directly allocated to the faculty member.
- Purchases can be made in advance with OFD, or by the faculty member who will be reimbursed using the College's Education Travel Expense Report Form, accompanied by original receipts.
- OFD will work with the Faculty Member and a pre-determined, authorized Travel Agent to make the arrangements for travel.
- If conference dates fall during teaching days, Faculty members must have approval from their department and must make all arrangements to cover any missed teaching days.
- Faculty members can make use of the FPD fund once per calendar year, determined from date of presentation.
- Preference will be given to faculty members who are applying for the first time.
- Faculty members must be active faculty at the time of presentation, and have been with the college for a minimum of two consecutive terms at the time of application.
- There is no responsibility to report or pay taxes on FPD awards (this is not considered earnings)
- This opportunity is available to Public Program Faculty members.
- Faculty members benefiting from this fund will be asked to work with the Offices of Faculty Development and Marketing and Communications to share their work with the community.
- Faculty members receiving this funding will be asked to archive their presentations with the college.

* ACFC TAA: ACFC Teaching Advancement Awards support a range of activities that enhance your knowledge as an educator and directly benefit your students in classroom and studio, and are available to successful applicants for research, conferences, workshops, exhibitions and related travel expenses that are not covered by departmental classroom support
